After the independence the people and women of Guinea-Bissau, under the correct leadership of His Excellency President Luis Cabral, their outstanding leader, have achieved great success in the struggle to firmly defend the sovereignty of the country, achieve national unity and develop the national economy and national culture.

Central Report Meeting Held to Commemorate 40th Anniversary of "Sogwang" (Dawn), Organ of KPRA

A central report meeting was held on May 2 at the People's Palace of Culture in commemoration of the 40th anniversary of the foundation of "Sogwang," organ of the Korean People's Revolutionary Army, personally founded and guided by the great leader Comrade Kim Il Sung during the period of the anti-Japanese armed struggle.

Put up with due respect on the platform was a portrait of Comrade Kim Il Sung, the great leader of our Party and our people.

Present at the meeting were Comrades Rim Chun Chu, Yang Hyong Sop and Chong Jun Gi, personages concerned, leading functionaries from press circles, reporters and editors and working people in the city.

Comrade Yang Hyong Sop made a report.

He said: The foundation of "Sogwang," organ of the KPRA, by the great leader Comrade Kim Il Sung, on May 3, 1937, was a shining fruition of the great leader's Juche-based idea on building a most revolutionary and militant publication which takes the immortal Juche idea as its guiding principle and serves for its embodiment.

The reporter pointed out in detail that the great leader wisely led the revolutionary publication "Sogwang" to creditably discharge the noble historic mission it assumed before the time and the revolution.

"Sogwang," whose primary task was to resolutely defend and extensively explain and propagate the Juche-based revolutionary line and policies set forth by the great leader and his outstanding strategy and tactics and superb guerrilla tactics and war methods, rendered services to the struggle to arm the KPRA ranks with the Juche idea and energetically organized and mobilized all the KPRA men and the revolutionary masses to the struggle for the victory of the cause of Juche started by the great leader, the reporter said. In this course it performed undying exploits, added the reporter.

"Sogwang" accumulated many precious experiences of press activities—conducting all press activities guided by the revolutionary ideas of the great leader and firmly establishing the ideological system of Juche whereby all defend and guard the great leader with their lives politically and ideologically and unconditionally carry through his orders and instructions, thoroughly implementing the principles of Juche, Party spirit, working-class spirit, the spirit of allegiance to the people and veracity in press activities, editing revolutionary publications to suit the tastes of readers and the level of their knowledge and writing articles with strong militancy and appeal.

"Sogwang" and other revolutionary publications established an immensely precious revolutionary tradition based on Juche which our Party's press should eternally carry forward and develop through their activities under the wise guidance of the great leader.

The great leader founded our Party under very complicated situation, internal and external, after liberation and then founded "Rodong Sinmun" and many other Party's publications of new type on the basis of the glorious revolutionary tradition of our Party's press, the reporter declared, and stressed:

The founding of our Party's press signified a historic event in ushering in a new era in the history of the press for it meant an appearance of the press of new type in the hands of the party of the working class in power.

The great leader Comrade Kim Il Sung further developed his Juche-based idea on press activities founded during the period of the anti-Japanese revolutionary struggle in conformity with the new historic conditions after liberation and gave a new overall elucidation to all the theoretical and practical problems arising in the building of the revolutionary press of the working class and in its activities, thereby providing our people and men of the press with a guiding principle to be held fast to in the whole course of the socialist and communist construction, remarked the reporter.

Referring in detail to the fact that the great leader has energetically guided our Party's press and directed a deep care for it to make it a true model of Juche-based revolutionary press, the reporter stressed:

The respected and beloved leader is, indeed, a great benefactor who has given our reporters and editors a most priceless political integrity and the tender-hearted teacher who has brought them up to be most revolutionary and militant men of the press.

Noting that the history covered by our Party's press is a glorious history in which it has recorded an immortal revolutionary history of the great leader, and a proud road along which our Party has struggled to accomplish the revolutionary cause of Juche paved by the great leader, the reporter stressed:

The proud exploits have been performed by our Party's press thanks to the glorious tradition of revolutionary publications established by the great leader and his wise leadership and warm care.

and the basic conditions for veritable national independence.

Because it will be absurd to have liberated us from the chains of colonialism and imperialism, if we, through economic enslavement, fall again under the hegemony of big powers.

This is why we pursue the systematic policy of opening and enlarging our international relations.

We do not want to be shut up in any bloc, in any club, much less can we accept any sort of interdiction or exclusion.

We will not consent to be subjugated against our will to the old order of the past inasmuch as the evolution of the modern world can be conducted into the era of peace and prosperity only when all the barriers among the states and all the incomprehensions among the people are removed.

This is why we are most satisfied to be your guests, Mr. President, because we are convinced of being understood each other and of speaking the same language.

We are in the conviction that our presence by your side is a guarantee of the close and amicable links between our two countries and of economic and commercial relations which will develop in the spirit of mutual understanding and active and sincere cooperation.

In the framework of the new world order where every people, every state can have its proper personality recognized, obtain just and equitable remuneration of its natural riches and its labour in an atmosphere of peace, liberty and fraternity, the unity of our two countries constitutes concrete and tangible proof of our realism and our will to create together this better future, imprint in history a mark which is proper to us rather than running the risk of evolution which will be imposed upon us from without.

We also consider that it is the time when all the nations should change their way of view and new mentality guide them and all nations seek a new international order based not on any will of the big powers, but on the real desire to make humanity humanity of Juche, that is, essentially turned to people.

Thus, the political and social relations will be the relations of concord, equality, fraternity and not the relations of aggression and domination, and the economic relations be based on the just distribution and rational remuneration for efforts of each person.

Like the Workers' Party of Korea, the Democratic Party of Gabon which we founded to cement the unity of all our citizens and their active adhesion to our policy of national renovation proceeds from the principle of independence absolute and without concession, closely allied with the notion of international solidarity and cooperation with all countries, big and small, which accept to treat us on the basis of mutual respect and strict equality.

The five principles:

—Respect for territorial integrity and sovereignty
—Non-aggression
—Non-interference in the internal affairs
—Equality
—Mutual benefit and peaceful co-existence.

These five principles are the golden rule of your policy and also of our policy. If these principles are unanimously recognised and accepted, they will moralise and rationalise the international order.

We consider that domination, whatever its form may be, exploitation of man by man, are the old conceptions belonging to the past epoch. We affirm with force that now the international order should be founded not on the relations of force but on the necessity of understanding among men and nations who should know each other better to understand each other better.

Mr. President, we also know how much you are concerned about the division into two of your people and your country and how much the division is contradictory to the natural destiny of great Korea.

We believe you, Mr. President and the entire people of good will who are attached to this noble cause to find in the near future solutions to the restoration of fraternal unity of the entire sons of your beautiful country and remedies to heal the old wound and thoroughly eliminate the source of the pains of war and division.

Together with you, we think that only the entire Korean people can and should in full liberty and full independence put an end to the situation unfortunate to all, without any outside interference.

Mr. President, you are the respected and beloved leader of the Korean people and an example and model for all of us.

We are jointly defending the same ideal of justice and dignity. We deem it happiness and pride that the current voyage enables us to loudly and openly proclaim it once again. Because it is necessary to repeat it often so that it can be heard on the international scene.

Mr. President Kim Il Sung, in conclusion, I hope that your great country, a "land of morning calm," will become a land of morning of happiness and prosperity and will have for long on the road of advance toward a powerful and bright future the rare privilege of being directed by the respected and beloved leader who has done so much work for his people along the line of policy of Juche.

I propose to raise a toast to the longevity of President Kim Il Sung, the respected and beloved leader, and his wife,

To the longevity of the great Korean people,

To the friendship and cooperation between the Democratic People's Republic of Korea and the Republic of Gabon, and

To the victory of the ideal of peace and freedom in the whole world.

Long live the friendship between the people of Korea and the people of Gabon!

Long live the Democratic People's Republic of Korea!

Long live the Republic of Gabon!

Working People Warmly Hail DPRK Land Law

The DPRK Land Law adopted at the recent Seventh Session of the Fifth Supreme People's Assembly finds full support among our working people.

Support-law meetings are now being held in provincial and county seats and cities, at industrial establishments, cooperative farms and institutions throughout the country.

Those who took the floor expressed full approval and support for the newly adopted Land Law, saying that the law elaborated by the respected and beloved leader Comrade Kim Il Sung is a Juche-based programme of land development which is of great historic significance in accelerating our socialist and communist construction and remaking nature to turn our country into a beautiful, cultured and rich land truly good to live in.

Fully reflected in the Land Law adopted at the recent Supreme People's Assembly session is a great victory achieved in the solution of the land problem and in land development in our country, speakers noted with pride. They stressed that this proud victory is unthinkable apart from the wise leadership, tireless efforts and warm care of the great leader.

They said:

The Land Law of the DPRK in which the far-reaching plan of the respected and beloved leader for land development is consummated is a most revolutionary code of land that gives an all-round and perfect answer to the question as to how the state of the working class should solve the land problem and carry out land development after the establishment of the socialist system.

All the attendants of the meetings hardened their determination to thoroughly defend and carry through the Juche-based programme of land development put forward by the great leader and bring about a new turn in land development and land conservation and administration, so as to build the fatherland restored and brought into bloom by the respected and beloved leader into a veritable paradise for the people.

Senior Member of Our Side to MAC Strongly Denounces the Enemy Side for Creating Tension

The 383rd meeting of the Military Armistice Commission (MAC) was held in Panmunjom on May 9.

At the meeting, Major General Han Ju Gyong, Senior Member of our side, sternly denounced the enemy side for kicking up a row after faking up a non-existent "incident," and lodged a strong protest with it against the criminal acts it has committed against our side in the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) and the joint security area in ceaseless violation of the Armistice Agreement and called it to account for them.

The Senior Member of our side branded the enemy's propaganda about the so-called "incident" which allegedly occurred on May 3 as an out-and-out fabrication cooked up by the south Korean puppet clique. None of our military personnel crossed the Military Demarcation Line (MDL) into the enemy side's area, much less fired at the south Korean puppet soldiers, he stated.

He noted that, though the enemy has kept on violating the Armistice Agreement, we have so far exercised patience, calling no meeting out of our good intention.

According to the statement made by the Senior Member of our side, even after the last MAC meeting the enemy side incessantly perpetrated provocations and hostile acts against our side in gross contravention of the Armistice Agreement. Among other things, they committed cases of rifle-firing at our side in the DMZ and the MAC headquarters area and illegally brought heavy arms and automatic weapons and a large number of their combatants into the DMZ.

The total number of such diversified criminal acts committed by the enemy during the period from October 7 last year to April 30 this year amounts to 10,500 odd cases.

The Senior Member of our side pointed out that the enemy side's security guards committed various provocative acts on 150 occasions during the period from December 17 last year to April 3 this year and on 100 odd occasions in March and April this year alone.

The tension in our country has not been removed owing to such wildcat provocations of the enemy.

All facts go to prove that the enemy talk about "peace" and "relaxation of tension" but in actuality deport themselves contrary to them.

In order to remove the present tension, preserve and consolidate peace in our country and hasten its independent and peaceful reunification, it is necessary, above all, to put an immediate end to the enemy's foolhardy military provocations and war moves directed against the northern half of the Republic.
